FOX TERRIER GUARDS MUNICIPAL BUILDING

"Jack" Is Companion of Night Watchmen and Is Fond of Elevator Riding.

One of the smallest guardians of public property in the world is on duty in the District building every night from midnight until 7 o'clock in the morning.

He weighs about seventeen pounds, and yet covers more territory in a given time than any watchman in the Government service. His duty is one of love, he being one of the few who have been allowed to violate the law which forbids service in government offices without remuneration. He has been on duty about two years, and during that time has a clean record, never having made a mistake. His name is Jack, his nationality American, and his extraction fox terrier. He is the companion and property of J. M. Marcee, night custodian of the District building. Jack is exceedingly clever, but no respecter persons. Not long ago he refused to allow one of the District Commissioners to enter the closed portion of the building until his mas-ter came and gave the official per-mission. He has a record for never allowing anyone to enter the private corridors of the building without at-tracling his master's attention to the matter, but has never "spoken" an unkind or forbidding "word," or rather barked an unkind bark, at any one traversing that portion of the building open to the public at night.

Jack's chief amusements is riding on street cars and elevators. He has a little seat in the night elevator of the District building and rides every time he gets a chance. He has at-tracted much attention from dog fan-clers who maintain that he is a dog of excellent breeding. CLAIMS HIDDEN JEWELS. MARYSVILLE, Cal., Feb. 8.-Three cans of jewelry found recently in the crevice of a rock in the hills near

DOLLAR EXCHANGE

All foodstuffs and other commodities should be quoted and sold to foreign nations in dollars and cents.

Materials, labor, overhead, and taxes are paid for in dollars and cents. Sales should also, therefore, be in dollars and cents.

This is the only way that dollar exchange will ever become the factor in the world's commerce.

Every American is interested that dollar exchange gain and maintain a prominent place in international commerce.

With over Three Billion Dollar balance of trade in our favor for the year 1916, the dollar bill of exchange is today selling at a substantial discount in neutral

The purchasing power of the Dollar Bill of exchange even in belligerent countries has greatly decreased, although when converting the dollar bill of exchange into belligerent currencies it brings a premium.

This is due to the fact that the cost of everything in all these belligerent countries has in many instances

There should be very close co-operation between exporter and importer. The exporter uses steamers to carry goods from the United States; the importer uses the same steamers to bring goods to the United States.

The exporter sells United States commodities abroad: the importer brings foreign commodities to be sold in the United States.

Without exports there would be no imports; and without imports there would be no exports.

Without buying there can be no selling. Exports and imports so vitally affect one another that close co-operation between exporter and importer would bring about a very much larger foreign trade for the United States.
